Program Description

Overview

The Department of Justice is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights, increases access to justice, supports crime victims, protects the public from crime and evolving threats, and builds trust between law enforcement and the community.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) is seeking applications for funding to conduct a pilot test of the Local Jails Reporting Program (LJRP), a new jail-data collection of individual-level jail inmate administrative records. The LJRP will capture jail bookings with timestamps and information on the circumstances of admission and release. It will also collect data on a one-day snapshot of the jail population, including demographic and criminal justice characteristics of inmates, such as offense or charge, bail and temporary release, court disposition, and sentence. The data collected from the LJRP will be used solely for statistical and research purposes. The LJRP will describe the movement of arrested persons through the jail system. In particular, the individual-level booking data will be key to understanding important issues, such as pre-trial detention, the use of bail and temporary release, and jail recidivism (by linking records of the same individuals).

Approximately 11 million people are admitted to the more than 3,000 local jails each year. The sheer volume of associated jail records represents not only a unique opportunity for jail research, but also a challenge to efficiently capture, process, and analyze administrative data from different jail jurisdictions. The 2021 pilot test aims to collect data from about 10 of the largest local jails in the United States. About 6% of the total jail population will be covered. Through the pilot test, BJS will explore best practices to gain jail support for the LJRP and to deal with complex administrative booking data. If funding is available, BJS will consider gradually increasing collection coverage in future years.

Statutory Authority

34 U.S.C. §10132

Specific Information

BJS currently obtains aggregate data on the local jail population through establishment censuses and surveys of facilities (i.e., the Census of Jails and Annual Survey of Jails) and individual-level information on inmates through periodic personal interview surveys (i.e., the Survey of Local Jail Inmates and the National Inmate Survey). To complement existing jail collections, BJS is seeking applications to fund a pilot test of the LJRP, a new program that would allow BJS to obtain data that are difficult for individual jail facilities to aggregate and are therefore impractical to collect through jail establishment surveys. Such data include information on bail, offense or charge, and detailed inmate demographic and case characteristics. The LJRP would also allow BJS to collect data on the detained pretrial population, a group that Congressional appropriators have recently asked BJS to focus on. This subpopulation is difficult to sample through inmate self-report surveys due to the inmates’ relatively short stays in jail. Some of the key information to be collected through the LJRP include—

- demographic characteristics of jail inmates
- unique identification variables that allow for the analysis of jail recidivism
- charge and disposition
- admission and release timestamps
- pre-trial release and detention status of inmates, including any changes in that status
- whether bail was offered, the amount of bail, and payment status
- type of release
- type and length of sentence.

Goals, Objectives, Deliverables, and Timeline

Goals

BJS wants to pilot-test the LJRP in 10 of the largest local jails in the country to assess the feasibility of collecting individual-level administrative record data; the cost of obtaining, processing, and analyzing these data; respondent burden in providing the data; data quality; and the difficulty of standardizing data elements across jails for analysis. The LJRP pilot test will provide inmate admission and release data and snapshots of inmate populations, with information such as demographic characteristics, detention status, charge and disposition, and sentencing. As befits the nature of this award as a cooperative agreement, BJS expects that the successful applicant will work closely with BJS to enroll and assist local jails in the provision of data, including contacting individual jails; preparing documents for local jail and BJS legal review, Institutional Review Board (IRB) approval, and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) information collection clearance; assisting local jails in writing data-extract programs; and processing and unifying data across the jails. At all times, BJS requires that data be secured and protected at rest and during transfer, to the specifications outlined in the BJS Data Protection Guidelines (https://www.bjs.gov/content/pub/pdf/BJS_Data_Protection_Guidelines.pdf).

Objectives

Objective 1: Review BJS’s 2020 LJRP Feasibility Study report and related documents to determine the key data elements and the appropriate data extract structure that BJS should request of local jails for the pilot test.

In the fall of 2020, BJS conducted guided interviews with about 25 jails to understand their capability in sharing individual-level inmate data with BJS, the availability of certain data elements, and the procedures and potential legal and logistical issues involved in sharing data with BJS. The recipient of funds should first consult with BJS and review documents related to the project to understand BJS’s data needs and uses. The recipient should carefully review the report from the 2020 feasibility study and investigate the major inmate-management software programs used by jails, to assess the capability of jails to provide specific data elements that BJS seeks to collect. Then, weighing BJS’s data needs against jails’ capability in providing the data, the recipient should prepare a draft data-request document that specifies data elements, data extract structure, and expected processing requirements.

Objective 2: Interview jail representatives from the 30 largest local jails to learn about their specific case management systems and data-sharing policies and procedures.

The 30 largest local jails (listed below) will be contacted for the pilot test. The recipient will develop an outreach plan, recruit as many jails as possible from the list, and interview participants using an interview guide that BJS developed for the 2020 LJRP Feasibility Study. The interviews will take about one hour for each jail and will gather information about the jail’s inmate management system, capability to provide specific data elements, ease of providing these data, and policies and procedures regarding data sharing. Of critical importance to this collection are pre-trial release and detention data and individual identifiers that can be used for linking booking records. Based on information learned about individual jail’s specific case management systems and data-sharing policies and procedures, BJS and the recipient will select 10 jails for the pilot data collection.

Objective 3: Work with the selected jails to obtain individual-level administrative data for 2021, or for other years depending on the discussions between BJS and the participating jails.

The recipient shall assist BJS in preparing documents to obtain necessary authorizations and approvals to use jail administrative data, including legal memoranda of understanding and data use agreements, an IRB application, and an OMB clearance application. Applicants should plan to collect at least the following data types from 10 jails: (1) a one-day snapshot of jail inmate population and their demographic characteristics and criminal justice characteristics; (2) admission and release records for a period of one year that describe the movement of inmates through the jail; and (3) charge-code or offense categories. The recipient shall work with participating jails to determine data specifications and preferred method of data transfer. The specified data elements and data extract structure should provide the level of detail that BJS needs for research but not be overly cumbersome for jails to extract from their systems. The specifications should also be adaptable to other jails if BJS decides to expand the LJRP collection in the future. The recipient should be prepared to provide programming assistance and support should jails require it for data extraction.

Objective 4: Evaluate data quality, process the raw data, construct analytical files, and prepare data documentations.

The recipient of funds should evaluate the quality of incoming raw data by checking for missing data, out-of-range data, internal consistency, and so forth. External validations should also be incorporated in the evaluation. For example, aggregate statistics from BJS’s jail surveys (e.g., the Annual Survey of Jails or Census of Jails) or participating jails’ own statistical reports may be used as benchmarks. The recipient should work closely with BJS and consult with jail data providers to identify data issues and suggest appropriate remediations.

The recipient will clean the raw data and unify data fields across jails to create a set of high-quality, easy-to-use analytical files. As part of this task, the recipient will code individual jails’ charge or offense data to a common offense variable. The recipient should also try to include in the analytical files good-quality identifiers for linking records.

BJS award recipients that serve as data collection agents may need to pass an OJP background check. They may also be required to complete some of their work on the OJP network using OJP-hosted applications. OJP may request copies of the codebase, database, and related documentation for any applications developed using BJS funds. Required documentation includes functional specifications and installation instructions.

Deliverables

1. Attend a Kickoff Meeting and Develop a Final Timeline and Task Plan (Deliverable 1, due within one month of award). BJS will host a Webex kickoff meeting within the first month of the award. The meeting allows project staff to discuss and review all phases of the work and finalize a comprehensive timeline, identifying the start and delivery dates of all deliverables. The recipient of funds will deliver the final timeline and task plan within 2 weeks of the kickoff meeting. This revised timeline serves as the starting point for the cooperative agreement and is subject change over the life of the project by mutual agreement of BJS and the award recipient.

2. Data Management Plan (Deliverable 2, due within 2 months of award). The recipient of funds will develop and maintain a Data Management Plan (DMP) that describes how the data collected under BJS’s authority will be handled, processed, maintained, and disposed of. The DMP should provide general project information and describe the specific procedures that will be used to handle and process the data during the award period. For projects including information identifiable to a private person, or PII, the DMP should complement the information provided in the Privacy Certificate (28 C.F.R. § 22.23) to describe the controls in place to protect data confidentiality.

The DMP should provide, at minimum, information about the following categories:

a. Project team: List the project team members (including individuals tasked with drafting and overseeing the DMP), identify their roles, and provide their contact information.

b. Record lifecycle: Describe the physical and technical pathways and requirements for data that are collected or maintained for the project(s), including the data destination(s), transport method(s) from the data provider and to BJS, storage site(s) and method(s), file format(s), file sizes, file categories (e.g., PII and public data), sensitivity categorization(s), file path location(s), backup procedures, and data destruction method(s).

c. Incident response plan: Describe the procedures the award recipient will follow in the event of a real or suspected breach of data, including PII that are collected or maintained in conjunction with the project.

d. Data use agreements: As applicable, for each data use agreement that is executed with an external data provider for the project, summarize the terms and requirements that the award recipient will be responsible for fulfilling and describe what steps will be completed to ensure all applicable terms and requirements are complied with (e.g., an IRB approval process, encrypting data in transit and at rest, limiting access to PII, and ensuring the technical and physical security of data, including data access protocols). Where applicable, summarize mitigations for data security, ethical, intellectual property, and privacy issues.

e. Staff training: List the specific trainings that project staff are required to complete as a condition of funding and the completion dates.

f. Resources: Identify and describe the equipment, expertise, and software tools used to complete project activities, including data curation, data exchange, and access between parties.

The recipient of funds should collaborate with the BJS Project Manager to complete the DMP and should submit the DMP to BJS for review and approval no later than 60 days after the award start date. The award recipient is required to maintain an updated version of its DMP throughout the project period and receive written BJS approval prior to changing the approved plan. The award recipient should submit an updated copy of the DMP for review with its semi-annual progress reports and at any time on BJS’s request.

3. Data Specifications (Deliverable 3, due within 3 months of award). The recipient of funds will develop a document that describes data fields to be collected, data type, and the appropriate database structure for linking different record types (e.g., charge, booking, or individual). The document shall also specify the standards and data naming conventions used. These specifications will serve as a template for BJS’s data request to each participating jail of the pilot test. The recipient should keep the data specification document updated with any changes agreed upon by BJS and the recipient during the course of the project.

4. Outreach Plan (Deliverable 4, due within 3 months of award). The recipient of funds will suggest various strategies to gain jail support for the pilot test. The recipient shall provide a plan with a timeline of outreach activities that BJS and the recipient will conduct to engage with the 30 largest local jails for the pilot test.

5. Document Preparation Support (Deliverable 5, as requested by BJS). During the course of the project, BJS and the recipient will prepare various documents to obtain approvals needed to collect the pilot data. The documents will include and are not limited to (a) legal memoranda of understanding and data use agreements between BJS and jails, (b) an IRB application for research involving human subjects, and (c) a full OMB clearance to interview the 30 largest local jails and subsequently collect data from 10 of those jails. While BJS will be primarily responsible for drafting the various documents, the recipient should be prepared to provide support (for example, reviewing, commenting on, and drafting portions of text) at the BJS Project Manager’s request.

6. Interview the 30 Largest Local Jails and Provide a Summary of Interviews (Deliverable 6, due within 9 months of award). Following the steps outlined in the Outreach Plan (deliverable 4), the recipient will recruit jails from among the 30 largest local jails and interview their representatives individually. After all interviews have been completed, the recipient will provide a report summarizing findings from the interviews. The report should include information about individual jails’ case management systems; data elements captured; and data-sharing policies and processes. In addition, the report should synthesize the information and recommend 10 jails for the pilot test, with specific suggestions for navigating the pilot data collection. The recipient should also be prepared to submit interview notes for BJS review.

7. Conduct a Pilot Test to Collect Individual-level Administrative Record Data From 10 of the 30 Largest Local Jails. After BJS obtains the necessary authorizations and enters into data-sharing agreements with the jails, the recipient will implement the pilot data collection and submit bi-weekly updates in an acceptable format to BJS. These updates will summarize outreach efforts, progress with each participating jail, and issues encountered in collection. These reports on the progress of data collection will collectively serve as Deliverable 7, due bi-weekly after data collection starts, within approximately 15 months of the award.

8. Raw Data Files with Documentation (Deliverable 8, due 2 weeks after each jail submits data). The recipient of funds will work with jail data providers to obtain data extracts that will yield individual-level data at three levels:

   a. Jail population at midyear or year-end (with individual identifier, age, sex, race, ethnicity, custody status, pretrial status, bail information, admission date, sentence, and so forth).
   b. Admissions and releases (with movement timestamps, admission type, release reason, agencies released to, individual identifier, and so forth).
   c. Charges or offenses (charge code, severity, offense type, individual or booking identifier, and so forth).

   The variables listed above are common data fields in jail case management systems. Availability will vary by jail system and policy. In capturing raw data from jails, the recipient needs to be flexible and prepared to accept data in different formats and structures. Some jails may be able to create data extracts to BJS’s specifications, while some jails may simply provide a copy of a portion of their case management database. The recipient of funds should work with the jail data providers to prepare documentations (including data universe, variable definitions, value labels, and so forth). Because each jail-data provider will have its own schedule in providing data to BJS, the recipient should be prepared to receive the data files, prepare documentations, and share with BJS on a rolling basis for assessment.

9. Analytical Data Files (Deliverable 9, due 2 months after each jail submits data). The recipient will process the raw data files and unify data fields across jails to create a set of high-quality, easy-to-use analytical files in SAS, Stata, or SPSS format. The final analytical data files should have at minimum three files—jail population at midyear or year-end, admissions and releases, and charges or offenses—with applicable variables, as mentioned in Deliverable 8. These files should be provided to BJS no more than 2 months after each jail submits data. Codes used to process the data and generate the analytical files should also be provided.

   As part of this task, the recipient will create a look-up table (or code) that will map individual jails’ charge or offense data to a common offense variable with 8 to 20 categories. BJS will work with the recipient to determine the level of detail for the offense variable.

   If available, the analytical files should also include good-quality identifiers for linking records (for example, admissions records to individuals and admissions to releases).

   In the scenario where jails provide additional data files beyond the data requested by BJS, and BJS deems those data files useful, BJS may request that the recipient process those files, subject to funding availability.

10. Data Assessment Reports (Deliverable 10, due 2 months after each jail submits data). On a rolling basis, the recipient of funds will prepare a Data Assessment Report on the data received from each individual jail. The report should describe the formats and quantities of data received, evaluation work conducted on data quality, data errors found while running internal and external checks or duplicate checks, and remediation suggestions. Codes for data cleaning and data unification across jails should also be included.

   The Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables are directly related to the performance measures that demonstrate the results of the work completed, as discussed under Application and Submission Information.

Award recipients and subrecipients that serve as BJS data collection agents to collect, receive, handle, maintain, transfer, process, store, or disseminate personally identifiable information (PII) (e.g., names, Social Security numbers, last-known addresses, or FBI, state, or Department of Correction (DOC) ID numbers) under BJS’s authority in conjunction with the funded activities must maintain the appropriate administrative, physical, and technical safeguards to ensure that information systems are adequately secured and protected against unauthorized disclosure, in accordance with applicable federal laws, regulations, and other authorities.

Specifically, BJS award recipients and subrecipients are required to, as applicable—

- Follow the DOJ Cybersecurity and Privacy Rules of Behavior for General Users, which pertain to the use, security, and acceptable level of risk for DOJ systems and applications.
- Adhere to National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) guidelines to categorize the sensitivity of all data collected or maintained on behalf of BJS.
- Once the system has been categorized, secure data in accordance with the Risk Management Framework specified in NIST SP 800-37 rev. 1.

Further, BJS award recipients that receive funding for projects that involve collecting, acquiring, receiving, or transferring data under BJS’s authority are required to develop and maintain a Data Management Plan (DMP) that describes how the data collected or maintained in conjunction with the project(s) will be handled, processed, maintained, delivered, and disposed. The DMP should provide general project information and describe the specific procedures that will be used to handle and process the data during the award period. For projects including information identifiable to a private person or personally identifiable information (PII), the DMP should complement the information provided in the Privacy Certificate (28 CFR § 22.23) to describe procedures and controls in place to protect data confidentiality.

Applicants are advised that OJP may audit the FISMA-defined information systems that are used by award recipients during the performance period, to assess compliance with federal laws and regulations related to data management and security.

To ensure that applicants understand the applicable information system security and privacy requirements, BJS encourages prospective applicants to review the relevant provisions of the BJS Data Protection Guidelines, which summarize the federal statutes, regulations, and other authorities that govern data collected and maintained under BJS’s authority. For purposes of this solicitation, the term “State” means any State of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

To advance Executive Order 13929 Safe Policing for Safe Communities, as of October 28, 2020, the Attorney General determined that all state, local, and university or college law enforcement agencies must be certified by an approved independent credentialing body or have started the certification process to be allocated FY 2021 DOJ discretionary grant funding, as either a recipient or a subrecipient. For detailed information on this new certification requirement, please visit https://cops.usdoj.gov/SafePolicingEO.

All recipients and subrecipients (including any for-profit organization) must forgo any profit or management fee.

BJS will consider applications under which two or more entities would carry out the federal award; however, only one entity may be the applicant. Any others must be proposed as subrecipients (subgrantees). For additional information on subawards, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

BJS may elect to fund applications submitted under this FY 2021 solicitation in future fiscal years, dependent on, among other considerations, the merit of the applications and on the availability of appropriations.

Standard Applicant Information (JustGrants 424 and General Agency Information)

The Standard Applicant Information section of the JustGrants application is pre-populated with the SF-424 data submitted in Grants.gov. Applicants will need to review the Standard Applicant Information in JustGrants and make edits as needed. Within this section, applicants will need to: add zip codes for areas affected by the project; confirm their Authorized
Proposal Abstract
A proposal abstract (no more than 400 words) summarizing the proposed project including primary activities, products and deliverables, the service area, and who will benefit from the proposed project, will be completed in the JustGrants Web-based form.

Proposal Narrative
The proposal narrative should be submitted as an attachment in JustGrants. The attached document should be double-spaced, using a standard 12-point Times New Roman font; have no less than 1-inch margins; and should not exceed 30 pages. If the proposal narrative fails to comply with these length restrictions, BJS may negatively consider such noncompliance in peer review and in final award decisions.

The following sections must be included as part of the proposal narrative:

 a. Description of the Issue OR Statement of the problem if research is involved

Describe the value of collecting individual-level administrative booking data for jail research. Applicants should explain how the LJRP will supplement BJS’s current jail data collections and identify unique benefits of the LJRP for BJS and jail researchers. Applicants should also identify the critical data needs for the LJRP.

 b. Project Design and Implementation

Describe the strategy and list activities to recruit jails for interview and to implement the pilot data collection. Applicants should discuss expected obstacles in implementing this data collection and strategy to overcome these obstacles. Applicants should discuss response burden involved in this data collection and identify ways to reduce the burden. Applicants should list the proposed program activities and describe how they relate to the stated LJRP objectives:

- Include dollar amounts for each funded task.
- Address priority areas of the pilot test.
- Provide quantitative measures to assess the quality and completeness of records collected under the pilot test.

Provide a time table indicating roughly when activities or program milestones are to be accomplished.

 c. Capabilities and Competencies

Describe the capabilities and competencies to accomplish the goals and objectives of the project. The LJRP requires a team of persons with knowledge of jail record management systems and the appropriate methods of data collection from jails. Applicants should describe related skills sets and past experiences with jail data collection, conducting interviews, data management, and statistical analysis.

 d. Plan for Collecting the Data Required for this Solicitation’s Performance Measures

Describe the process for measuring project performance. Identify who will collect the data; who is responsible for performance measurements; and how the information will be used to guide and evaluate the impact of the project. Describe the process to accurately report data.

Note: applicants are not required to submit performance data with the application. Rather, performance measures information is included as an alert that successful applicants will be required to submit performance data as part of the reporting requirements under an award.

OJP will require each successful applicant to submit regular performance data that demonstrate the results of the work carried out under the award. The performance data directly relate to the goals, objectives, and deliverables identified under “Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables.”

A list of performance-measure questions for this program can be found in the Performance Measures chart near the end of this document.

Applicants can also visit OJP’s performance measurement page at www.ojp.gov/performance for an overview of performance measurement activities at OJP.

Award recipients will be required to submit performance measure data and performance reports in JustGrants. Further guidance on the post-award submission process will be provided, if selected for award.

Application Review Information

Review Criteria

Applications that meet basic minimum requirements will be evaluated by peer reviewers. Applications will be evaluated on how the proposed project/program addresses the following criteria:

1. Statement of the Problem/Description of the Issue (15%) - evaluate the applicant’s understanding of the program/issue to be addressed.
2. Project Design and Implementation (35%) - evaluate the adequacy of the proposal, including the goals, objectives, timelines, milestones, and deliverables.
3. Capabilities and Competencies (30%) - evaluate administrative and technical capacity of the applicant to successfully accomplish the goals and objectives.
4. Plan for Collecting the Data Required for this Solicitation’s Performance Measures (5%) - evaluate the applicant’s understanding of the performance data reporting requirements and the plan for collecting the required data.

5. Budget (15%) - evaluate for completeness, cost effectiveness, and allowability (e.g., reasonable, allocable, and necessary for project activities).

b. Additional Review Criteria

Other important considerations for BJS include geographic diversity, strategic priorities available funding, past performance, and the extent to which the Budget Worksheet and Budget Narrative (Web-based Form) accurately explain project costs that are reasonable, necessary, and otherwise allowable under federal law and applicable federal cost principles.

Review Process

Applications submitted under this solicitation that meet basic minimum requirements, will be evaluated for technical merit by a peer review panel(s) in accordance with OJP peer review policy and procedures using the stated review criteria above.

OJP screens applications to ensure they meet the basic minimum requirements prior to conducting peer review. Although specific requirements may vary, the following are common requirements applicable to all solicitations for funding under OJP programs:

- The application must be submitted by an eligible type of applicant.
- The application must request funding within programmatic funding constraints (if applicable).
- The application must be responsive to the scope of the solicitation.
- The application must include all items necessary to meet the basic minimum requirements.

Pursuant to the Part 200 Uniform Requirements, before award decisions are made, OJP also reviews information related to the degree of risk posed by the applicant. Among other things to help assess whether an applicant that has one or more prior federal awards has a satisfactory record with respect to performance, integrity, and business ethics, OJP checks whether the applicant is listed in SAM as excluded from receiving a federal award.

In addition, if OJP anticipates that an award will exceed $250,000 in federal funds, OJP also must review and consider any information about the applicant that appears in the non-public segment of the integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently, the Federal Awardee Performance and Integrity Information System, FAPIIS).

Important note on FAPIIS: An applicant, may review and comment on any information about itself that currently appears in FAPIIS and was entered by a federal awarding agency. OJP will consider any such comments by the applicant, in addition to the other information in FAPIIS, in its assessment of the risk posed by the applicant.

Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, all final award decisions will be made by the Assistant Attorney General, who may take into account not only peer review ratings and BJS recommendations, but also other factors as indicated in this section.

For additional information on these legal requirements, see the “Administrative, National Policy, and Other Legal Requirements” section in the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.
