2006 Survey of Law Enforcement Gang Units
CFDA Number 16.734

Overview

The purpose of this award is to provide funding to administer the 2006 Survey of Law Enforcement Gang Units. This survey will obtain information about the operations, workload, policies, and procedures of gang units in large law enforcement agencies (those having 100 or more officers). A draft data collection instrument and preliminary respondent list will be provided by BJS. BJS anticipates making one award for a 12-month period under this solicitation. BJS is authorized to issue this solicitation under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, Section 302, as amended (42 USC Section 3732).

Deadline: Registration

Deadline: Application

The due date for applying for funding under this announcement is May 29, 2006.

Eligibility

Both profit-making and nonprofit organizations may apply for funds. However, consistent with OJP fiscal requirements, for-profit organizations are not allowed to make a profit as a result of this award or charge a management fee for the performance of this award.

Faith-Based and Other Community Organizations:

Consistent with President George W. Bush’s Executive Order 13279, dated December 12, 2002, and 28 C.F.R. Part 38, it is DOJ policy that faith-based and other community organizations that statutorily qualify as eligible applicants under DOJ programs are invited and encouraged to apply for assistance awards to fund eligible grant activities. Faith-based and other community organizations will be considered for awards on the same basis as other eligible applicants and, if they receive assistance awards, will be treated on an equal basis with all other grantees in the administration of such awards. No eligible applicant or grantee will be discriminated for or against on the basis of its religious character or affiliation, religious name, or the religious composition of its board of directors or persons working in the organization.

Faith-based organizations receiving DOJ assistance awards retain their independence and do not lose or have to modify their religious identity (e.g., removing religious symbols) to receive assistance awards. DOJ grant funds, however, may not be used to fund any inherently religious activity, such as prayer or worship. Inherently religious activity is permissible, although it cannot occur during an activity funded with DOJ grant funds; rather, such religious activity must be separate in time or place from the DOJ-funded program. Further, participation in such activity by individuals receiving services must be voluntary. Programs funded by DOJ are not permitted to discriminate in the provision of services on the basis of a beneficiary’s religion.
Applicants are encouraged to review the Civil Rights Compliance section under “Additional Requirements” in this announcement.

Project Specific Information

Law enforcement agencies are frequently the first line of response to gang problems experienced in jurisdictions across the nation. As such, police are primary consumers of information about how law enforcement agencies are organized to deal with gangs and the kinds of gang prevention tactics employed. In order to expand our knowledge of law enforcement gang prevention activities, BJS will conduct a survey of gang units in large State and local law enforcement agencies. For purposes of this solicitation, a “gang unit” is defined as a special unit staffed with full-time personnel, whose primary focus is gang activity and the law enforcement response to gangs. A “large” agency is defined as an agency having 100 or more officers.

Based on the most recent available data from the Law Enforcement Management and Administrative Statistics (LEMAS) program, it is estimated that there are about 350 large agencies having a special gang unit staffed with full-time personnel. Little is presently known about the operations of these gang units on a national scale. The 2006 Survey of Law Enforcement Gang Units will focus on the operations, workload, policies, and procedures of these gang units. Information collected will include several summary measures of gang activity in the agencies’ jurisdictions, with the goal of producing some standardized metrics with which to compare jurisdictions.

This project will be coordinated with the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA), and where applicable the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), to ensure that survey content is relevant to the development and implementation of gang crime prevention programs at the State and local levels.

Scope of Work

The objective of this project is to complete data collection for the 2006 Survey of Law Enforcement Gang Units. This includes extensive follow-up, data verification, data entry, and delivery of a final data set and documentation. The data collection instrument and preliminary respondent list will be provided by BJS. In preparing proposals for this solicitation, applicants are strongly encouraged to review the data collection instruments, datasets, and statistical reports from the LEMAS program, available on the BJS website at www.ojp.usdoj.gov/bjs.

The data collection agent will have routine contact with State and local law enforcement agencies and must be knowledgeable in the areas of gangs, law enforcement, and the criminal justice system. The recipient of funds will:

1. Develop a detailed timetable for each task in the project. Project tasks should begin in Summer 2006 and be completed within the 12-month project period. After the BJS project manager has agreed to the timetable, all work must be completed as scheduled.

2. Organize at least one meeting of gang experts (to include academic researchers, law enforcement professionals, and others) for the purpose of consultation on the development, review, and pre-testing of data collection instruments. An initial draft instrument will be provided by BJS.

3. Conduct a minimum of five site-visits with law enforcement agency gang units. The purpose of the site visits will be to observe and interview key personnel in order to gain a greater understanding of their operations. The site visits could be coordinated with survey pretesting activities. Site visits will include BJS staff.

4. Verify and update (as needed) the names, addresses, and appropriate contact from the respondent list provided by BJS. Using available information sources (including any experience with specific law enforcement agencies, commercial databases, membership lists of professional associations, academic researchers specializing in gang research, law enforcement professionals, and other sources), conduct a search for any additional gang units not on the respondent list provided by BJS.

5. Mail surveys to respondents and provide extensive follow-up to respondents that require assistance, clarification, or encouragement to complete the survey. This may involve multiple follow-up telephone calls, re-mailing or re-faxing surveys, and e-mail correspondence.

6. Create and maintain a website which respondents can use to submit their data. Electronic submission will be the preferred method of response and respondents should be encouraged to use this method.

7. Implement and maintain an automated ‘real-time’ system to provide ongoing status of each survey respondent, complete documentation, and an inventory of follow-up communication and procedures for each case. Respondents’ method of response (website, mail, fax, or phone) shall be included in this system. This automated tracking system should remain current and accessible to the BJS project monitor at all times.

8. Identify techniques necessary to achieve a 95% or better survey response rate and item response rates specified in the “Performance Measures” section below.

9. Deliver to BJS electronic versions of the survey data, and documentation on diskette and in ASCII file format. Survey documentation should include, but is not limited to, a comprehensive codebook detailing variable positions, data coding, variable and value labels, any recoding implemented during the data cleaning process, methods used for dealing with missing data, and copies of all program code used to generate data or published statistics. All data and documentation from this survey may be posted on the BJS website, and the data will be archived at the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data, operated by the Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR).

Funding Information

OJP awards are subject to the availability of appropriated funds. Based on availability of funds, BJS anticipates making one award for a 12-month period under this solicitation.
Match Requirements

Consistent with established BJS data quality standards, BJS has determined that based on the nature of deliverables, it is not feasible to require the award recipient to contribute money, facilities, or services to carry out the purposes for which the grant is sought. Therefore, there is no match requirement.

Performance Measures

To ensure compliance with the Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA), Public Law 103-62, this solicitation notifies applicants that they are required to provide performance data used to measure the results of the programs implemented with this grant, as well as contribute to the achievements of BJS overall statistical program. BJS’ mission is to produce and disseminate accurate, objective, and independent national statistics on crime and the administration of justice and to assist States, local and tribal governments in the improvement of criminal justice record keeping. OJP/BJS is responsible for measuring the relevance, utility, and accessibility of its information by the following outcomes: (1) demand for statistical data, and (2) utilization of the data. To ensure accountability of these data, for which OJP is responsible, the following performance measures are provided:
